Millions 'Die' In Simulated Nuclear Attack

Dayton CD Official Unhappy At Lack Of Public Interest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seventy-three of the nation's major cities were a theoretical wasteland today in the wake of a giant simulated nuclear attack.

Millions were reported "killed" as mock enemy bombers smashed targets across the country yesterday. The biggest test in this hemisphere also affected Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

It was a grim rehearsal for a possible disaster that may strike any time.

For most Americans the drill is already over. Civil Defense workers, however, were expected to tackle new problems today, the second day of the 50-hour exercise "Alert III."

Theoretically, there was enough time yesterday for the nation to brace itself for the enemy blow.

In Washington, President Eisenhower hurried into an emergency session of a temporarily enlarged National Security Council as soon as the sirens wailed.

MORE THAN 30 government departments sent skeleton staffs to secret relocation centers at "safe" distances from the capital.

Washington itself was theoretically evacuated at the time of the mock blast that would have seared the city.

Many thousands Ohioans theoretically "died" as make-believe bombs fell yesterday.

A top civil defense official said early today in some cases the test has "not come up to our full expectations."

A business-as-usual attitude in Dayton, where 27,315 persons "died" under a bomb blast brought the comment from Montgomery County Commissioner Harry J. Kiefaber that "this was the worst air raid alert I have seen. What's the use of spending money for civil defense? It's too bad the public doesn't take CD more seriously."

Just 47 minutes after the governor's office in Columbus received word that the alert was on, the governor and his staff, state department heads and other elected officials were at the previously prepared emergency capitol many miles outside the estimated zone of deadly radioactive fallout.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche told his cabinet assembled at the retreat: "We are here to awaken in the minds of the people that there is an impending danger. We can't very well ask local governments to do anything about civil defense unless we are willing to act ourselves."

While state officials discussed the make-believe attack and other problems, civil defense communications were kept busy. The communication system brought word of atom bomb attacks on Steubenville, Canton, Youngstown, Dayton and Hamilton.

Monday's opening price of $16.50 was 25 cents above the price for the same day the previous week. Friday's price and close for the week was $16.25.

Trim Iowa Girl Crowned As 'Miss Universe Of 1957'

LONG BEACH, Calif. —A tall, trim Iowa girl, who arrived a week ago with ambitions of becoming a school teacher, was acclaimed today as Miss Universe of 1957.

For Carol Morris, 20, the award complete an unprecedented sweep of top honors in the international beauty contest. She was first named the most popular girl in the opening day parade and then went on to win the title of Miss United States.

Last night the dark-haired blue-eyed beauty from the Middle West matched her charms against those of 14 girls from other nations and again came out on top. Germany's Marina Orschel placed second in the final judging. Ingrid Goude of Sweden was third, Iris Waller, England, fourth, and Rosanna Galli, Italy, fifth.

The only previous winner of the Miss USA and Miss Universe titles was Miss Miriam Stevenson of Winsted, S. C. in 1954.

Among the prizes won by the new Miss Universe is a six-month motion picture contract at $250 a week. The Rev. LaVerne Morris of Ottumwa, Iowa, made it clear he is not too keen on his daughter entering the movies.

"I CAN'T say much now," he said. "I knew that would be part of the program and I sanctioned her going in. But I'm not hoping for a movie career for her."

He said he wanted Carol, a junior at Drake University, to complete her college education and go on with her plan to become an elementary school teacher.

"I want her to finish college and learn how to think, he said. "Discipline of the mind is necessary to life."

The beauty queen's father said she is a deeply religious girl who takes part in the family prayers and teaches Bible school.

"She's wonderful with children and they love her," he said. "I think teaching is more in line with her temperament."

Miss Morris, a champion swimmer, is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 129 pounds and measures 36-25-36.

The prosecutor added that he plans to seek later conspiracy indictments against Edward A. Eppinger, Hodge's chief aide, and Edward A. Hintz, resigned president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago.

Hodge, whose alleged juggling of some $800,000 in state funds gave the Republican administration of Gov. William G. Stratton an election year jolt, was closeted for three hours with Contrakon yesterday, in a continuation of questioning that started Wednesday.

He reportedly named names, identifying several persons who authorized, processed or cashed state warrants similar to checks under investigation.

Contrakon said the indictments sought would cover each of 46 state warrants cashed by persons who were not the payees named on the warrants.

Conviction on a forgery charge could result in imprisonment of 1 to 20 years.

Mercy Is Sought For Doomed Slayer

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission has been asked to extend mercy to a 60-year-old vagrant who shot and killed two men after they allegedly robbed him of his winnings in a gambling game.

Attorneys for Joseph Allen, scheduled to be executed Sept. 20 for first degree murder, asked for mercy because of the man's age. Allen was convicted last October for the shotgun slaying of Berry Joiner, 35, and Willie Arnold, 41, in Cleveland. The killings occurred in December 1951, but Allen wasn't arrested until 1954 in Baltimore.

Eisenhower Goes To Pan-Am Confab

American Republics Send Chiefs To Reaffirm Bonds Of Friendship

PANAMA (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived here today for a get-together of the chiefs of state of at least 18 American republics aimed at strengthening the historic bonds of Pan-American friendship.

Eisenhower flew here from Washington to join the other presidents and presidents-elect at the hemisphere parley commemorating the first Pan-American conference 130 years ago.

Accompanying the President was his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower; Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's personal assistant, and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who is the convalescent President's physician.

In a brief airport speech, President Eisenhower said he was happy to join the presidents of the other American nations "who celebrate this great event which took place 130 years ago."

Eisenhower was referring to the American meeting called by South America's great liberator, Simon Bolivar in 1826.

THE PRESIDENT came down from the plane with a firm step. He looked somewhat pale but when he spoke his voice was clear and sharp.

The conference will reach its climax tomorrow when the executives sign a "Declaration of Panama" calling for cooperation in solving economic problems and working for peace in a world "gravely threatened by totalitarian forces."

Today was "get acquainted day," renewing old friendships and making new ones. The conference has no formal agenda, only assorted ceremonies, speeches and fraternizing.

The trip offered Eisenhower a double opportunity to display his ability at personal diplomacy and to exhibit his stamina before the world and the U. S. electorate.

He is still recuperating from his June 9 intestinal operation, but the White House has pictured him as able and eager to go on this goodwill mission.

The U. S. President is to make a formal speech tomorrow, the first since his operation.

He boarded the presidential plane Columbine III three hours ahead of its midnight takeoff time in Washington in order to get some extra rest.

Apparently Eisenhower is something of a magnet for the other American presidents. Only 15 or 16 were expected at first. Now the number is up to 18, leaving only two absentees, Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla of Colombia and Julio Lozano of Honduras.

Ike's Tito Aid Opposed By Party Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's two top Republican leaders led today a fight to chop off new arms aid to Yugoslavia after helping win the administration's battle for $2.3 billion in military assistance.

Republican leader Knowland (Calif.) and Sen. Bridges (N.H.), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, joined yesterday with Senate Democratic leader Johnson (Tex.) in beating back attempts to cut military aid.

But they switched position for today's voting on proposals to cut off any more U. S. arms help to Yugoslavia. The Eisenhower administration opposes these anti-Yugoslav moves.

It objects to going any further than the discretionary powers on the subject which Congress gave it in earlier legislation.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), spearhead of all the fights to cut general military assistance funds, said he would oppose an amendment by Knowland, Bridges and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) to withhold from Marshal Tito all new military equipment, including jet fighters already in the pipeline, and limit future help to maintenance and spare parts for equipment he already has.

Ellender said he feared such action "might push Tito into Moscow's arms."

9,942 Ohio Farms Sign For Soil Bank

COLUMBUS (AP)—An estimated 9,942 Ohio farmers have signed agreements to take part in the new federal soil bank program.

D. T. Herrman, administrative officer for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the count of soil-bank participation was made at the same time results of the wheat marketing quota referendum were tallied last night.

Deadline for applications in the soil bank program, originally set for yesterday, has been extended to next Friday, he said.

New Social Security Bill Nears Passage

Some Doubt Raised Whether Eisenhower Will Sign Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Social Security bill carrying precedent-setting benefits for women and disabled workers was headed today for almost certain passage by Senate and House.

But there was a question as to whether President Eisenhower would sign the measure in view of his opposition to several of its major provisions.

After Senate House conferees finished work last night, Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman of the group, said it would be next Tuesday before staff specialists could have the bill in shape for House consideration.

Both branches are expected to pass it quickly and send it to Eisenhower.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.), one of the conferees, predicted flatly that he will sign it.

The conferees accepted the bill largely as it passed the Senate.

ONE MAJOR provision of the compromise bill calls for a 1/2 per cent increase in the Social Security tax starting next Jan. 1. This would be split evenly between employer and employee and would apply on the first $4,200 of earnings each year.

Thus an individual covered by Social Security, and his employer, would start paying the tax at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent next year. The tax increase would total $10.50 for those earning as much as $4,200 a year. It would be the same for their employers.

The tax boost is designed to finance the new program of benefits for persons totally disabled (Continued on Page Two)

Mate's Whistling On Honeymoon Brings Divorce

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. W. L. Blackerby won a divorce because she said her husband whistled all night on their honeymoon.

"Was it a sort of wolf whistle?" asked Dist. Judge James K. Everts. "A wolf whistle might not have been out of order."

Mrs. Blackerby replied: "It was just plain whistling. He would sit in the rocking chair by the bed and whistle. And sing, too. No particular tune."

She said that her husband apparently wanted to aggravate her because of a minor argument.

"Cruel treatment indeed," observed Judge Everts. "Divorce granted."

Another Report Of Vandalism Prompts Money

Latest Cable Cutting Found Near Place Of Previous Incident

Discovery of a fourth cut telephone cable two miles east of Circleville on Route 56 has resulted in the striking union offering a $100 reward in connection with the vandalism.

Local 4373 of the Communications Workers of America is offering the reward "for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons tampering with or destroying property of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co." This covers all exchanges in the "union district," according to Bill Stewart, vice-president of the local union.

The striking union has repeatedly declared that its members have not been responsible for the vandalism reported in the Circleville area. Three phone cables were reported cut, according to the company.

First cable found cut with a hacksaw was a mile west of here along Route 22. The second one was found 2 1/2 miles east of the city along Route 56. The third one was discovered in an alley to the rear and just west of St. Philip's Church on W. Mount St.

THE LATEST discovery was reported to the sheriff's office at 10 a. m. today. This is near where the cable was found cut Wednesday.

Service to the Tarlton and Stoutsville areas apparently is affected again. In the first cutting in that section, approximately 130 phones were knocked out.

Stewart said that this latest incident is as much a surprise as the other cuttings. He has said that he is sure no union member is responsible.

Service in the Circleville exchange continues to be erratic. The "emergency operators" still refuse to place long distance calls from the city except in cases of what they term "emergencies."

Some subscribers who have come to pay their bills at the Pinckney St. office have refused to cross the picket line.

MEANWHILE, C. E. Williams, president of Ohio Consolidated, has been accused by Gov. Frank J. Lausche of failing to make a "bonafide effort" to keep telephones working in some Cádiz exchanges.

Williams said today that suspended service will be restored when supervisory personnel are assured police protection.

According to the sheriff's department and city police here, local company officials have not asked for any "extra protection."

The company president had told Lausche also that the Tiltonville (Continued on Page Two)

Lausche Predicts New Gasoline Tax

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche predicts another penny-a-gallon tax will be added to the price of gasoline by the next Legislature.

"Look forward to it," he told his Cabinet yesterday. "The next Legislature will have to increase gasoline tax a penny if the state is to meet the cost of matching federal spending in the highway program."

Area Farmers Cast Vote For Wheat Quotas

87.5 Pct. Of Nation's Growers Ask Controls On Next Year's Crop

Ohio farmers voted 4,779 to 3,950 yesterday to continue federal marketing quotas on wheat, but the balloting fell short of the needed two-thirds majority for state approval. Pickaway County voted 200 to 153 to continue the controls.

Since balloting in 35 other states was well above the favorable proportion necessary for execution of the quota program for wheat, Ohio must go along with the national decision approving quotas.

On a nationwide scale, yesterday's vote showed a favorable majority of about 87.5 percent which is far in excess of the necessary two-thirds. Last year, the favorable margin was 77.3 percent.

The Ohio vote alone figured to about 55 percent in favor. The totals were 4,779 to 3,950.

Farmers in 36 states voted in the referendum yesterday. The Agriculture Department proposal was designed to restrict next year's crop so it will not add to a record-breaking surplus overhanging markets and crowding the nation's storehouses.

VIRTUALLY complete, unofficial returns gave 228,839 votes for federal marketing quotas and 32,767 against.

In approving controls, farmers assured themselves of a national average price support of $2 a bushel on next year's production, the same as this year. Under farm law, the price support would have dropped to around $1.21 a bushel had the quotas been rejected.

These are the unofficial returns from Midwestern states in the referendum other than Ohio:

Grove City Herd Gains Top Honors In Milk Production

The purebred Ayrshire dairy herd of N. D. Sommers and Sons at Grove City has achieved top recognition during a recent month for outstanding production. The 27 producers are credited with averaging 1053 pounds of 3.9 percent milk and 42 pounds of butterfat, actual, which placed them among the nation's top Ayrshire herds in the Ayrshire Herd Test Division of 25 to 50 cows.

In accordance with the rules of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association, all registered cows in the herd, milking or dry, are included in the average.

With 16,000 cows on test, the Ayrshire holds the record among all dairy breeds as having the highest percentage of cows on test.

'Ghost' Voters Seen Created By State Law

Ohio Poll Regulation Says College Students Must Ballot At Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unless Ohio's election laws are changed, communities all over the state soon will be developing sizeable groups of "ghost" voters.

They will be made up of undergraduate and post-graduate college students who have left their hometowns with no intention of ever returning. The students will be bound to their old homes by unbreakable chains so far as voting residence is concerned.

Those chains will remain so long as the students continue their studies, an analysis of the law by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown indicates. Brown is Ohio's chief elections officer.

Student voting has been the target of legislation for 25 years, but attempts to clarify the law in several recent legislative sessions may be the cause of some weird situations as the years pass.

The Legislature first undertook to pin down the legal residence of students in 1931 and has been toying with the law ever since. Many protests had come from the smaller college towns of Ohio that student voters were having a serious effect on purely local issues.

Many complained that students—either out of spite or sheer whimsy—were wrecking civic programs like bond issues and operating levies by irresponsible voting. They said a few write-in campaigns by students had elected some obviously unfit public officials.

Three years ago, the Legislature took a firm grasp on the situation and amended the law to provide that students must, as long as they remain students, vote in their own hometowns regardless of their intention to make their college town their permanent home.

But the law-makers may have gone a little farther than they intended, it appears from Brown's most recent interpretation of the student voting law he distributed to county election officials this week. Brown's interpretation doesn't necessarily mean he likes the law as written; he's simply administering it.

Here's an example of how the law could work:

Joe Doakes, a fuzzy-faced youth of 17, moves with his father and mother from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Zanesville, Ohio, and he attends high school there for his senior year. He chooses to go to college at Ohio Northern University at Ada. He becomes eligible to vote in his junior year.

But two years before, his parents had moved on to Fort Wayne, Ind. Joe has never returned to Zanesville, his home for two years. Where is his voting residence under Ohio law? Zanesville!

Joe continues his studies and gets his bachelor's degree. He marries a Zanesville girl he knew in high school and who also attended Ohio Northern. They settle in Ada. She turns to school teaching to support both of them while he continues his education. But, because she no longer is attending college, her voting residence is in Ada.

Joe is awarded his master's degree and accepts a position as an instructor at Ohio Northern. He and Mrs. Doakes buy a house because a baby is on the way. But, because Joe continues his studies, for a doctor's degree, while teaching, his voting residence still is Zanesville.

Joe has not seen Zanesville for five years. He actually lived there only one year. His parents have been away from the city for three years. He knows only a few people in town, none of the public officials and none of the local issues.

Four years later, he is awarded his doctorate and ends his formal studies. He continues at the university, but now as an assistant professor, not as a student.

Granted, that is an extreme example, but it could happen.

New Social Security Bill Nears Passage

at age 50. The first benefits would be paid next July.

The new age 62 retirement for women accepted by the conferees involves little or no extra cost.

Under the bill, widows would be able to get at 62 the same retirement payments to which they now are entitled at 65.

But working women electing to go on the Social Security rolls at 62 would receive a rate of payment equal to 80 per cent of the benefits to which they would be entitled at age 65. Wives of retired husbands would get at 62 only 75 per cent of the age 65 payment.

THE OTHER major disputed provision involved a Senate amendment to increase federal grants to the states for needy aged, blind and disabled.

The Senate plan called for boosting individual payments by $5 to $7.50 a month. This would have cost $208 million annually.

The conferees whittled it down so that the increases would amount only to $3 to $4 a month. But at the same time they added a $2 a month boost for each child under the program of aid to dependent children. The annual cost of this compromise was figured at $146 million.

MONROE, La. (AP) — The law-maker who introduced the bill that bans Louisiana sports events between white persons and Negroes says the new law will not hurt the importance of the New Orleans Sugar Bowl.

State Rep. Lawrence Gibbs said money would be "strong inducements for leaving their colored players at home." He added: "Sugar Bowl teams will put first things first when they get an opportunity to play in the annual classic. They get $120,000 for appearing in the Sugar Bowl, and don't think they overlook the prestige either."

Relocation Eyed
COLUMBUS (AP) — A public hearing to consider relocation of U. S. 68 in Greene and Clinton counties will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in Greene County Courthouse, Xenia.

Scarberry Serving On Famed Carrier

Carl P. Scarberry, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Scarberry of Circleville Route 2, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga, world's largest and most powerful ship.

The Saratoga returned to New York June 28 after successfully completing her first sea trials. She is scheduled to leave New York July 30 for a "shakedown" cruise to the Caribbean.

In keeping with the Navy's new strategy to provide the nation with mobile air bases that cannot be singled out by inter-continental missiles, the Saratoga can change its position more than 600 miles in a single day, and will carry more than 100 of the latest jet aircraft.

FHA Receives Loan Allotment For Farm Aid

Farmers Home Administration in Ohio received an allotment of $2,300,000 for the 1957 fiscal year to be used for production and subsistence loans, it was announced today by Cornell E. Copeland, County Supervisor of FHA in Pickaway, Fairfield and Franklin Counties.

Production and subsistence loans are made by the Farmers Home Administration to help eligible operators of family-type farms get ahead through better farming, he noted. The main purpose of the loan is to enable families to make planned adjustments and improvements in their farm and home business and increase their income, Copeland explained.

"Loans may be made to buy livestock, farm and home equipment, feed, seed, lime and fertilizer, and, when necessary, to pay other farm operating and family expenses," according to Copeland.

"Many farm families in Pickaway County who farmed with the help of these FHA loans last year carried out the improvement of their pastures by better seeding, liming, fertilization, clipping for weed control and rotation grazing. Other better farming practices carried out by these families included livestock improvement through good management practices such as improved selection, breeding, feeding, and marketing.

"CROP IMPROVEMENT was also achieved through the use of improved and adapted varieties, fertilization, weed and insect control and proper land preparation. Improvements in farm efficiency resulted in higher income with higher living standards for the family."

Copeland noted that only families unable to obtain from banks and other local lender adequate credit at reasonable rates and terms are eligible for FHA loans. The local FHA office is located at 119 1/2 S. Court St. and is open Monday through Friday from 8 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. Anyone desiring additional information may call at this address.

Senate Shuns Criticism Of Paul Hoffman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Friday brushed aside protests by a small group of Republicans and confirmed overwhelmingly Paul G. Hoffman's nomination as a U. S. delegate to the United Nations. The vote was 62-44.

Casting opposition votes were 16 Republicans and 6 Democrats.

One of those criticizing President Eisenhower's choice of Hoffman for the U. N. post was Sen. Bridges (NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee.

Bridges told the Senate that some of Hoffman's actions and statements led him to question the wisdom of Hoffman's representing this country at the United Nations "in this vital period."

The nomination came under sharp attack from Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Jenner (R-Ind.).

After Bridges joined in, Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said he could not understand why some Republicans would try "to destroy the man" he said was often credited with having most influenced Eisenhower to seek the presidency.

Monroney said Senate rejection of the nomination "would destroy him" because it would brand Hoffman as "a Communist fellow traveler without a trial."

The theme of his sermon will be, "The Language of Actions", in three parts. The "Language of Actions" is spoken and understood by everyone, is the surest guide to another's personality and character but is fully understood only by God.

Mr. George Hartman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman Sr. of Circleville Route 3, who is a senior at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Columbus, will serve as liturgist at both of the services.

Sunday school will follow the 8:30 a. m. service and will begin at 9:30 a. m. The lesson for Sunday will be taken from the International Series and is titled, "The Power of Faith in the Christian Life".

First In A Series Of Sermons Starts At Calvary Church

The sermon at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday will be entitled, "The Rich Young Man; Almost Perfect".

It will be based on that passage from Matthew 19:16-26 that tells of the rich young man inquiring of Jesus the way of eternal life. This sermon will be the first in a series of sermons under the general heading of "Dynamic Encounters with Jesus".

The hymns to be used will be: "All People That On Earth Do Dwell", "The Solid Rock" and "Saviour, Teach Me Day by Day". Services in the Children's Department will begin at 9 a. m. in the annex with the Sunday school classes. At 10 a. m., the junior worship service will follow under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, Children's director.

Nazarene Church Set To Cooperate In Attaining Goals

A call of "shoulders to the wheel" will sound Sunday in the Circleville Church of the Nazarene when announcement is made of new district goals for 1956-60 that were set by leaders at the annual assembly just closed in Columbus.

Dr. Harvey S. Galloway, who was elected to an unprecedented 3-year term as superintendent, asked the district in 1956-60 to record: (1) A net gain of 2,500 members, (2) Open 25 new churches, and

(3) Give $500,000 for world evangelism.

Dr. Galloway said that during the last four years the 120 churches on the district gave $417,898 to world evangelism, had a net gain of 1,580 members and established 11 new churches.

Delegates and guests gave $504 to the Rev. and Mrs. William A. Eckels, missionaries to Japan. This was the largest district gift.

The following district officers and board members were re-elected:

The Rev. W. E. Zimmerman of Coshocton, treasurer; the Rev. Paul K. Hayman of Galion, secretary; the Rev. F. B. Frederick of Ironton, trustee for three years, Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill.

Rev. Walter R. Moore of Zanesville, the Rev. Mr. Frederick, the Rev. Mr. Zimmerman and the Rev. Mr. Hayman, camp meeting trustees for four years.

District advisory board will consist of: James E. Oberlander of Bucyrus and Paul Forgrave of Columbus, laymen; the Rev. Miles A. Simmons of Columbus and the Rev. Frederick, pastoral members.

The assembly ended Friday afternoon. The 10-day camp meeting started Friday night and will continue through Sunday, July 29.

Sermon Developed From 139th Psalm For Presbyterians

"For Thine Is The Power" is the theme for worship at the Presbyterian Church scheduled for 10:30 Sunday morning. The Rev. Donald Mitchell will preach the sermon.

The message will be developed from the 139th Psalm, which is in keeping with the awe and wonder of Creation as it impresses us often in the Summer season of the year. The vastness of the heavens and of growing things upon Earth that declare the glory of God and His incomparable greatness —

these thoughts give a "life" to our spirits that comes from the Creator God who loves His people. This we need to know, that God's true purpose may be fulfilled in our three-score years and ten.

During the worship, the Benedictus will be repeated responsively by the congregation of worshipers. A baritone solo will be sung by Mr. Robert Moeller.

Hymns used will include: "Praise Ye The Lord, The Almighty", "Breathe On Me, Breath of God" and "Our God, Our Help In Ages Past".

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, presiding at the console, will present the organ numbers: "Prelude", "Legend" and "Grand Chorus".

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game... his day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he is a well-balanced youngster, and he would have taken that in stride, too.

He has learned about being a good sport, about regard for his fellow men, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have faith in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FEDERAL SPENDING GROWS

THE NATIONAL administration, which came into office three years ago determined to cut federal spending, seems now to be resigned to ever-bigger budgets.

In the fiscal year that ended a year ago, Uncle Sam spent $64.6 billion. Spending in the fiscal year which ended June 30 exceeded $65 billion.

There seems little doubt that the outlay for the fiscal year now started will be even higher. Budget Director Percival Brundage says as much in the following letter to President Eisenhower's cabinet:

"As a result of the salary increases, larger programs, and new projects in many of the departments and agencies, the administration's record of successive annual reductions in expenditures will be broken in the fiscal year 1957. We recognize that the obvious economies have now been made and that from here on the job becomes more difficult. Nevertheless, we must diligently search for further economies in operation."

Two of the big reasons for the increase are defense spending which this fiscal year will top last year's military outlays, $35.5 billion; and the fact that farm spending has stayed at a high level. The surplus program cost $3.4 billion a year ago and was supposed to drop to $2.2 billion this year.

Actually it has gone up to around $3.6 billion and will cost at least $3 billion in the year ahead instead of the $1.7 billion optimistically predicted last January.

The addition of other federal programs such as water pollution and school construction also swell the budget hikes.

MILLION SECRET-MAKERS

TREVOR GARDNER, former Air Force official, has told a congressional committee that there are now a million persons in the government who are empowered to wield a secrecy stamp.

Even if Gardner's figure is exaggerated somewhat for effect, it does show the extent to which secrecy has grown in government. It illustrates why members of the press covering Washington contend the area of secrecy becomes more difficult to penetrate every year, regardless of which party is in power.

No one could really object if these secrecy stamps were used to shield data that would be of use to the enemy. But the public has cause to have worries that it is all too easy to use such a stamp to cover up mistakes and worse in government affairs.

Particularly does the revelation that there are so many secrecy stamp-wielders give rise to apprehension. It's inconceivable that this nation has secrets so voluminous that one million federal employees have them crossing their desks at one time or another.

Gardner also declared that at least half the government documents now classified could be stripped of their secrecy labels. That could be subject to debate.

But it would seem obvious that half — if not more — if the secrecy stamp-wielders could be stripped of this particular power.

SHE HUGGED HIM

THIS IS THE TRUE story of a woman who knew what to do when things looked hopeless. She was only 17, too.

She had to be quick, or her husband would be burned to death. He had been cleaning asphalt from his clothes with gasoline when it spilled on him and caught fire.

She looked frantically around for a blanket or sheet or towel to wrap around him and smother the blaze. There wasn't anything that would do. There wasn't time to find anything.

But Mrs. Ernest Strawn, of Grand Prairie, Tex., ran to her writhing husband, threw her arms around him, and hugged him again and again. She put the fire out by doing the only thing that could save his life.

Most husbands and wives have serious problems, and sometimes the chances of solving them seem hopeless. That's when they need to remember that there are times when a hug will work miracles.

Now is the time to can rhubarb, says a home note. Much of the political type has already been canned for radio and TV release.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The ordeal of Jean Margetts, who managed to live for nine days under the body of her car and heavy oak scrub, without food or water, wounded but not killed as was her companion, has stirred astonishment. Yet the Old Testament tells of prolonged fasts, 40 days and 40 nights. The ancients believed that an equilibrium could be found between body and soul and that from fasting would come the triumph of the spirit.

In this materialistic age and country, where the steak is the symbol of success, a belly civilization does not answer man's need for a satisfaction of the cravings of the spirit. If doctors wonder how human beings last without food or water, let them study the history of besieged cities to know how mothers suffered extreme privation to give their children barely enough.

Under such circumstances, no one thinks of vitamins, no matter how colored, but only of the will to survive, the will to live. And when that will asserts itself, the human body only too often responds to it even when the medicines have failed. We call such episodes miracles and materialistic guessers deny that miracles ever took place, even before their eyes. Their explanation is agnostic; they do not know what happened.

Science has, in the recent past, blinded our eyes to the facts of life, which are so often recorded in the most ancient writ of all peoples. Not everything can be established by mathematical equations and even Einstein was forced to wonder what tremendous but impenetrable and unexplained power moved the forces of nature.

He did not live long enough to discover God, but Jean Margetts will be able to explain her miraculous survival not to some analyzable conservation of moisture in her body but to the spiritual forces within herself from which came to her the will to live.

The best textbook for the study of human psychology is "Job" in the Old Testament. Nobody ever had as much trouble as Job and he was sorely tried. Perhaps in these times, a man who had as many tribulations as Job would take an overdose of sleeping pills or would quiet himself into an alcoholic, but Job remained steadfast.

He did not live long enough to discover which have become such a fad, the veterinarians giving them to dogs who bark too much. His own description of what a big shot he was before his troubles started is a masterpiece:

"I put on righteousness, and it clothed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.

"I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.

"I was a father to the poor: and the cause which I knew not I searched out. "And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the spoil out of his teeth.

"Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my days as the sand.

"My root was spread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch. "My glory was fresh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.

"Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept silence at my counsel.

"After my words they spake not again; and my speech dropped upon them."

Then he came a cropper. Everything went wrong.

But Job did not accept defeat, nor was he frightened nor did he die. He had faith and he had the will to live and he did live. He got all the bad breaks that could befall anybody but he refused to concede defeat.

The Book of Job may be a drama or it may be a parable but it explains such miracles of strength of the spirit as kept Jean Margetts alive for nine days in Parley's Canyon in the Wasatch Mountains, east of Salt Lake under a car, in pain, without food or drink and very cold.

If we only knew all that occurred in our world, we would be sure that there was no age of miracles only in the past; that miracles never cease; that they occur even in these days and that there is no better explanation for those that occur now than for those that occurred in ancient days. And the great miracles are among those who have the will to live against unbelievable odds.

STRONGEST HORSERADISH?

NOW COMES a report from Wisconsin that experts in that state are working on hybrid plants to impart a stronger kick to horseradish.

For years and years horseradish has been just plain horseradish. But that was before University of Wisconsin scientists began to monkey with the tangy root that is "as strong as a horse."

This, it would appear, is like carrying coals to Newcastle. But then the march of science must continue. Mankind benefits from such research — or so the scientists say.

CHAPTER 36

BILL SETTLED back in a corner on the sofa and said, "Like Winchell, I want to tell you all about tomorrow's headlines. I'm sure you all know something has been going on."

"Those strange men weren't on the Silver Song for a social visit," said Peggy. "You're one of them, aren't you? F.B.I.?"

"Not F.B.I. Secret Service. We've just broken up a counterfeit racket and that's one thing that doesn't come under the F.B.I. There are other things involved in this, too, that comes under the Smuggling Act and the Bureau of Narcotics. It's a pretty big thing. Smuggled jewels and marijuana are mixed up with the counterfeiting."

"When Alvarez came here presumably to fish, I was sent down to keep him covered. We had a hunch that counterfeiting would be going on somewhere close by. I was beginning to think Alvarez was too smart to be caught." He paused, smiled, and said, "Then Rita and Priscilla came." No one said anything, and he continued, "And Lookout House entered the picture. At the party on the yacht that night I heard Rita and Alvarez talking about the place and something clicked in my mind—all that talk about the secret room and passage."

"I located the room the morning I went there and found Priscilla ransacking the cedar chest. And I went back and explored the secret passage after Priscilla had gone."

"You didn't tell us!"

"It wasn't the time. This thing was so big I couldn't afford a slip. The door was open leading from that room to the secret passage and I closed and bolted it. If I had taken the counterfeiting equipment then, it—with the marijuana and smuggled jewels—would have been found on property belonging to Priscilla."

Priscilla was staring at him. "And that's why you said you could have placed me under arrest?"

Bill smiled at her. "I wanted to scare you into holding onto the property until the right moment. It was the only way Alvarez had to get into that room, after I had blocked the passage."

"Why didn't he get suspicious? Finding the door locked, I mean."

"That's probably what made them so desperate to conclude the thing and be on their way. Alvarez would naturally suppose if the things had been found, they would be reported at once. Instead, he fell into my trap."

"What about the lights flashing?" Rita asked.

DIET AND HEALTH

Exercise To Help Feet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DO you walk a lot?

Let me answer the question for you with a resounding "Yes."

If you are the average American, you probably take between 15,000 and 18,000 steps each day. This is true even for you home-makers—at least for those of you who don't spend most of the day before the television set.

Lifetime Average

During your lifetime, you will walk an average of 70,000 miles—nearly equal to three times around the world!

It's little wonder then that nine out of every 10 Americans have foot trouble of some sort.

Poorly fitting shoes and stockings, of course, are a primary reason for much of this trouble. But there are other causes, too. If you have diabetes, you're likely to have aching feet.

Other Causes

Just being overweight may also result in painful feet. Warm weather sometimes causes feet to ache.

What can you do?

If your feet really bother you, I strongly advise that you go to see a podiatrist.

There are, however, some things you can do before you develop such trouble which might help prevent it.

Despite all the walking you do, your feet still need exercise—the right kind of exercise. Here are a few exercises you can practice in your own home. Perhaps they will help keep you from becoming one of the 90 per cent.

Pick-Up Exercise

Try sitting on a chair, your bare feet on the floor in front of you. Then, using only the soles of your feet, pick up a ball from the floor. Try this several times.

Another sitting exercise is to cross one knee over the other and rotate the extended foot at the ankle in a circle.

A simple walking exercise is to walk barefooted on the outer rims of your feet. Your toes should be curled in, your feet pointed straight ahead.

Standing exercises are good, too. One of the easiest ones I know is to stand atop a book and curl your toes down its side.

Your feet, remember, do a lot for you. Take good care of them.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. P.: I am pregnant and have severe leg cramps. What can I do?

Answer: During an attack, massaging the legs or standing on a cold floor is sometimes of help. The taking of vitamin B-1, or thiamine hydrochloride, is also of help.

During pregnancy, your diet should contain adequate amounts of calcium in order to help prevent leg cramps.

Try, Stop Me

A Hollywood babe managed to latch on to an inconspicuous part in a great screen epic. The director was an exacting executive with an unlimited bankroll, so the projected two months shooting schedule stretched out to four months, then to six. Finally the bored "actress" inquired plaintively of a columnist, "Say, who do you think I'd have to romance to get out of this darn picture?"

This heartwarming variant of the usual dolorous evidence of broken marriages in the classified ad columns was inserted in a Philadelphia newspaper:

"I am responsible for all debts and obligations of my wife, Selma, both present and future, and am simply delighted to be the provider for a woman who has borne me two lovely children, and with an overabundance of love and care, has made the past 8 years of married life the nicest years of my life. On this, our eighth anniversary, I wish to publicly express my gratitude."

Quillen-Winter Nuptials Read In Hedges Chapel

Bride Wears Lovely Chantilly Lace Gown

Hedges Chapel Church of near Ashville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Elaine Quillen to Mr. William Winter. The Rev. Emerson Abts performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with daisies and baby's breath and lighted tapers in seven-branched candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. W. Quillen of near Ashville and the late Mr. Quillen and Mr. Winter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter of Amanda.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Donald Quillen, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a princess line bodice and short shirred sleeves. The skirt was of nylon tulle with appliques of alençon lace over an old-fashioned hoop ending in a cathedral sweep. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace pill box hat and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and small pearl earrings, that were a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Margaret Effland of Akron was maid of honor and Mrs. Dorsey Bosworth of Circleville and Mrs. Jack McCain of Ashville were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of ballerina-length pink silk crystallette over taffeta crinolines. They wore matching mits and single-strand pearl chokers. The headpieces were of nylon tulle with seed pearls and each carried garden baskets of white daisies with pink bows on the handles.

Connie Collins and Kathy Dunkle, flower girls, were dressed identically in ballerina-length gowns of white organdy embroidered with pink rosebuds. They carried white hand crocheted baskets filled with pink rose petals.

Miss Shirley Woodman, Miss Ann Rutledge, Mrs. James Gregory and Miss Patricia Collins were hostesses for the reception, held in the home of the bride's parents. A color scheme of pink and white was used as decorations throughout the house and the traditional tiered wedding cake was surrounded by ivy and daisies.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore a dusty rose lace dress with a matching hat and the groom's mother chose a pink linen dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white rose buds.

The bride wore a navy suit trimmed with silver beading and white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet for the honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

The new Mrs. Winter is a graduate of Walnut Township High School and Ohio University, Athens. She plans to teach at Amanda High School.

Mr. Winter was graduated from Walnut Township High School and attended Ohio State University, Columbus. He is currently engaged in farming.

The couple will reside near Amanda in the Cedarhill community.

Successful Sidewalk Show Held By Local Art League

The Circleville Art League held its second annual sidewalk exhibit Friday in front of the Charles H. May residence on the corner of Court and Mound streets.

Mr. Roy Wood, chairman, announced that the showing, which consisted of 50 paintings on display, was a huge success.

Many of the members have been holding sessions to work on water-color painting, which contributed to the number of works on display.

Seven of the artists' paintings were sold as many onlookers and local residents viewed the exhibit.

The exhibit, as a rule limited to large metropolitan areas and European countries, had an informal air, which gave the artists a chance to meet the public and to personally display their work.

Due to the success of the showing, the local organization is looking forward to holding a similar display next year.

Exchange Student Arrives In Turkey

Latest Letter Describes Journey From Venice To Final Destination

(This is the third and final article in the first series of letters received from Charles W. Brown, a Pickaway County student now in Turkey under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.)

Brown leaves Venice and goes to Bari, Italy. There, he encounters some very vivid anti-American feelings, due to the fact that the town was hard hit during the war. Finally, Brown and other IFYE students arrive in Ankara, Turkey, their destination.

"We left Venice on the Italian ship, 'Barletta', at 4 p. m. on the 29th of June. The 'Barletta' is a very pretty ship, done in all white with orange and black trim. It cruises around the Mediterranean Sea and all the small seas around the Mediterranean. Our destination was Istanbul, Turkey. We were on the Adriatic Sea most of the time but we were also on the Ionian Sea and the Aegean Sea. The trip was very smooth and beautiful.

"After leaving Venice, we sailed down the Adriatic Sea, as I said before. We arrived at Bari, Italy, at 5:30 p. m., the 30th of June and had until 11 p. m. to see the town. The town of Bari is a very large sea port. We went out to see the city in an old horse and carriage (which were very numerous, but seemed to be used mostly by tourists; the city has very modern buses).

"The city is divided into two parts, the old city and the new city. In the old city we saw the St. Nickols Cathedral, which was built in about 1680. The church is very large and had a beautiful ceiling done in gold and mosaic pictures of Bible scenes. In one corner of the church, there was the armor and some of the belongings of St. Nickols. The remains of St. Nickols were also in, what the guide said, an oriental casket with windows. (The guide was self appointed and cost me two cigarettes before we got away from him.)

"THE HOMES in the old city are very close together and very old, although some had been rebuilt. The streets are very narrow, just wide enough for a horse and carriage.

"In this city there is a very old fort, that must have been a great thing in its time. It had a large moat around it and the wall went straight up for a ways and then angled out in a type of a balcony. The fort is quite large, about the size of a city block.

"The old city must have taken a pretty rough beating during the war because we saw many signs of fighting and some rebuilding is still going on. The new city is ultra modern with very large, apartment houses. They have television, radio and about every electric appliance you can find in the United States.

"The people there seem to have a great dislike for the American. We thought for a while that maybe it was just because they thought we were stupid for riding in a horse and carriage. There were two other Americans on the ship who walked through the city and they seemed to get the same impression. One of them spoke a little German and they were talking to a couple of the shopkeepers. The shopkeepers were bragging that they had sunk 20 American ships in the harbor. When the American didn't seem happy about it, they asked why and when he said they were American, the shopkeeper said something in Italian and walked away. We even had a few hold their nose when we went by.

"These are the kind of incidents that try our spirit of the IFYE program. We talked this situation over with a very educated Italian and he explained it very well to us. Bari was hit very hard during the war and the people have not forgotten it yet. Many people lost their whole families, so if a person puts themselves in their place one can understand. He also said that it would take many years to change the impression that some of the American Army men had left during the war. These people only remember the bad ones.

"THE SMALL CHILDREN seem to know all about this. They would be out on the street yelling 'money Joe, cigarettes Joe' and things such as that. I have never in my life seen so many children as we saw in Bari. They were so thick that we couldn't look any place without seeing 10 or 12 in a group. We left at 11 p. m.

"The first day of July was very interesting. We sat around on deck showing our slides and pictures to some of the people on board. We could not understand them or vice versa. By using signs, grunts, groans and a great deal of the Latin I had learned in high school, we got along all right. I would use a Latin word and they would understand. This was a lot of fun and very interesting. I think we have made a number of friends on board even though we do not speak the same language. This is the type of thing that makes IFYE seem worth every trial and tribulation to us.

"Our ship, the 'Barletta', docked at Istanbul, Turkey, at 6:30 p. m., the 3rd of July. We were met at the docks by Waldo S. Rowan, assistant agriculture attaché and a man from the American Consulate Office, who got us through customs quickly. We then went through the city to the Istanbul Hilton Hotel. This hotel is one of the most fabulous hotels I have ever seen. It has wall to wall carpeting, in every room, each has a balcony and a very large bath. The room we had was about all glass on two sides and had a couple of the largest mirrors I have ever seen. One was the whole end of the bathroom and the other was a sliding door over a large clothes press.

"The hotel is one of the most beautiful I have ever seen, but when you go through the gateway of the hotel you step back a hundred years or more. There are many other modern buildings in the city but they are greatly outnumbered by the old buildings. The old buildings are solid, side by side, and the streets are very narrow, and one way. There are some new boulevards with four lane traffic, but these are few.

"The city of Istanbul has many interesting places to see, but due to the fact that we had only one day to spend and part of that was taken by USIS to take pictures we did not get to see very much. Thanks to Sukru Ergur, an IFYE to the United States in 1952, we got to see the Blue Mosque, which is a beautiful mosque. It has its entire ceiling done in mosaic which is mostly blue and a good bit of white. The floor of the whole mosque is covered with Turkish rugs and the people sit where they please. A person must remove his shoes before entering and the people of that faith must wash their hands, face and feet just in side the door.

"We also visited St. Sophia, which was a very old Christian church and now a museum. St. Sophia is not as pretty as the Blue Mosque but it was built in the 13th century and the Blue Mosque, in the 16th century.

"AFTER EATING our dinner in a nice little restaurant over the old covered market (a section under a building that is all little shops, with everything to sell), we went to the Old Sultan's Palace. This is quite a place to see. It is a large fortress that covers a number of acres. It is on a peninsula out in the sea. The palace is now a museum of all the Sultan's treasures and etc. There is a collection of China that dates back to the third century. There are many other exhibits such as royal coaches, kitchen utensils, guns, spears, swords, armors, etc.

"We IFYE's and Mr. Rowan left Istanbul for Ankara at 8 p. m. on the 4th of July. We were met at the station by Davut Aris, national director of extension, Bill von Segern, agricultural attaché, and a number of newspaper men. We spent the last few days meeting all the important men in the Turkish Agriculture Department and others. We have not had too much time to do any sight seeing in Ankara.

"The following is the program for our stay in Turkey: July 8-22, in Samsun; July 23-Aug. 2 in Amasya; Aug. 3-5, in Ankara; Aug. 6-21, in Eskishir; Aug. 22-Sept. 5, in Bursa; Sept. 6-21, in Izmir; Oct. 4-11, in Adana; Oct. 12-17, in Mersin; and Oct. 18-19, return to Ankara.

Cellblock Lawyers Given Nod By Ohio Penitentiary Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Warden R. W. Alvis gave his blessings today to Ohio Penitentiary cellblock lawyers who spend their spare time composing applications for writs of habeas corpus.

"I would rather have them working on appeals than planning how to escape," Alvis declared. Howard Reid, deputy clerk, Cuyahoga County, had said the number of appeals was so high a full-time clerk was assigned to handle petitions from the penitentiary.

Mrs. Gertrude B. Mahon, assistant prosecutor, Cuyahoga County, had said prisoners are being cheated since someone must be charging them for preparing the papers.

"We don't have the silent system here," Alvis retorted. "There are copies of appeals made by men still within the walls and these copies are used as the basis for many of the petitions sent out. The men are allowed to keep copies and if they are made available to others there is nothing we can do."

He added, however, that it was possible prisoners were being charged for assistance.

"But the pay is in cigarettes," he went on. "There possibly isn't two dollars inside the walls."

Mrs. Mahon also had said the papers were "unnecessarily notarized at a fee of 25 cents."

Alvis said all petitions are notarized by one of four notaries in his office without charge to the inmates.

He cited a Supreme Court ruling which allows inmates the right to file petitions—"even if they are written on wrapping paper or the back of a shingle."

One Police Chief At A Time, Please

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One police chief at a time is the goal of suburban Hialeah Gardens.

A majority of the council told Judge Grady Crawford they fired Mayor J. A. Grimsley as chief and directed him to appoint a successor. Grimsley straightaway appointed himself.

Grimsley maintains he's chief and won't turn over badge, car or office to William J. Geronimo Jr., whom council appointed to the job yesterday.

He thought he only stealing beer.

AKRON (AP)—In Municipal Court Thursday Paul Kish, 48, pleaded guilty to stealing a case of soft drinks from a delivery truck.

But it really was a mistake, he told Judge Thomas M. Powers, because "I thought it was beer."

He got 15 days in the workhouse.

Government Says Budget Now Balanced

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in five years, the government has ended the 1956 bookkeeping year with a budget surplus.

The surplus on June 30, the end of the last fiscal year, totaled $1,754,357,066.

This was reported by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Percival F. Brundage. It fulfilled predictions made earlier this year by the Eisenhower administration and met the goal the administration has been aiming at since it took office.

Not since the early part of the Korean War had the last previous budget balance been achieved. It was balanced three times during the Truman administration, but before that, not since 1930.

Last May 17, Humphrey predicted a budget surplus of about $1.8 billion. The actual surplus for fiscal 1956 fell somewhat short of that amount, but the Treasury chief and the budget director described themselves as gratified.

"A balanced budget, to which this administration has been pledged from the beginning, has now been achieved," they said.

According to Treasury figures, net budget receipts in fiscal 1956 came to a record $68,140,695,316. Net budget spending amounted to $66,386,338,250.

The Klan has announced it will be "an old time speaking rally and cross burning." About 2,000 members are expected to hear talks on white supremacy.

At the same time the Negro congregation of St. Luke's Free Will Baptist Church will hold a mass meeting to pray for the Klan and "strengthen the spread of Christian love for one another."

5 Men Sweat Out 15 Minutes In Electrified Auto

CHICAGO (AP)—Five men sweated through 15 minutes of terror here Thursday night.

A high tension wire, snapped during a heavy thunderstorm, fell across their convertible.

The canvas top of the electrified vehicle caught fire, but William Carnahan, 23, of Wauconda, Ill., the driver, managed to press a button that caused it to roll down.

Then the tires started burning and the car paint started blistering as the men sat there. Then they stood on the seats and hopped gingerly to the ground without touching the car's metal sides.

Guard Tank Stalls In Midst Of Test

ST. ALBANS, W. Va. (AP)—A group of national guardsmen had red faces yesterday during the evacuation of St. Albans as part of the nationwide "Operation Alert."

Rumbling through the streets in a 25-ton tank, they clanked up to the civil defense communications center, then found they couldn't start the tank again. It sat immobilized through most of the two-hour exercise.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche has called a meeting Monday of Ohio delegates who attended the Midwestern conference of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in Chicago in May.

After First 5 Marriages, Martha Raye Shuns Romance

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"Romance? No, sir, not me. Not for a long, line time."

This was Martha Raye speaking over the rock-and-roll din in the lounge of the Hotel Sahara. In a rare moment of relaxation between her own shows in the Congo Room, she watched the cavorting musicians and talked about her personal life and career.

What about reports she was kindling a new romance, this time with a dealer at the Sahara?

"Oh, no!" she said, shaking her head emphatically. "No more men for Martha. From now on, the only one I'm going to worry about is Uncle Sam."

It was an understandable reaction after five husbands, but I hazarded that she had said the same before.

"Yep, I have," she nodded. "But now I'm older and wiser."

Martha was leaving shortly to

Millions 'Die' In Simulated Nuclear Attack

Dayton CD Official Unhappy At Lack Of Public Interest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seventy-three of the nation's major cities were a theoretical wasteland today in the wake of a giant simulated nuclear attack.

Millions were reported "killed" as mock enemy bombers smashed targets across the country yesterday. The biggest test in this hemisphere also affected Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

It was a grim rehearsal for a possible disaster that may strike any time.

For most Americans the drill is already over. Civil Defense workers, however, were expected to tackle new problems today, the second day of the 50-hour exercise "Alert III."

Theoretically, there was enough time yesterday for the nation to brace itself for the enemy blow. In Washington, President Eisenhower hurried into an emergency session of a temporarily enlarged National Security Council as soon as the sirens wailed.

MORE THAN 30 government departments sent skeleton staffs to secret relocation centers at "safe" distances from the capital. Washington itself was theoretically evacuated at the time of the mock blast that would have seared the city.

Many thousands Ohioans theoretically "died" as make-believe bombs fell yesterday.

A top civil defense official said early today in some cases the test has "not come up to our full expectations."

A business-as-usual attitude in Dayton, where 27,315 persons "died" under a bomb blast brought the comment from Montgomery County Commissioner Harry J. Kiefaber that "this was the worst air raid alert I have seen. What's the use of spending money for civil defense? It's too bad the public doesn't take CD more seriously."

Just 47 minutes after the governor's office in Columbus received word that the alert was on, the governor and his staff, state department heads and other elected officials were at the previously prepared emergency capitol many miles outside the estimated zone of deadly radioactive fallout.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche told his cabinet assembled at the retreat: "We are here to awaken in the minds of the people that there is an impending danger. We can't very well ask local governments to do anything about civil defense unless we are willing to act ourselves."

While state officials discussed the make believe attack and other problems, civil defense communications were kept busy. The communication system brought word of atom bomb attacks on Steubenville, Canton, Youngstown, Dayton and Hamilton.

Ohio Hog Prices Showing Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prices on live hogs declined again this week as larger numbers of new crop hogs began arriving at interior Ohio markets, the state bureau of markets reports.

The week's average price of $16.35 per hundred pounds is 15 cents lower than the previous week's average.

Monday's opening price of $16.50 was 25 cents above the price for the same day the previous week. Friday's price and close for the week was $16.25.

Trim Iowa Girl Crowned As 'Miss Universe Of 1957'

LONG BEACH, Calif. —A tall, trim Iowa girl, who arrived a week ago with ambitions of becoming a school teacher, was acclaimed today as Miss Universe of 1957.

For Carol Morris, 20, the award complete an unprecedented sweep of top honors in the international beauty contest. She was first named the most popular girl in the opening day parade and then went on to win the title of Miss United States.

Last night the dark-haired blue-eyed beauty from the Middle West matched her charms against those of 14 girls from other nations and again came out on top. Germany's Marina Orschel placed second in the final judging. Lagrid Goude of Sweden was third, Iris Waller, England, fourth, and Rosanna Galli, Italy, fifth.

The only previous winner of the Miss USA and Miss Universe titles was Miss Miriam Stevenson of Winstonsboro, S. C. in 1954.

Among the prizes won by the new Miss Universe is a six-month motion picture contract at $250 a week. The Rev. LaVerne Morris of Ottumwa, Iowa, made it clear he is not too keen on his daughter entering the movies.

"I CAN'T say much now," he said. "I knew that would be part of the program and I sanctioned her going in. But I'm not hoping for a movie career for her."

He said he wanted Carol, a junior at Drake University, to complete her college education and go on with her plan to become an elementary school teacher.

"I want her to finish college and learn how to think," he said. "Discipline of the mind is necessary to life."

The beauty queen's father said she is a deeply religious girl who takes part in the family prayers and teaches Bible school.

"She's wonderful with children and they love her," he said. "I think teaching is more in line with her temperament."

Miss Morris, a champion swimmer, is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 129 pounds and measures 36-25-36.

The prosecutor added that he plans to seek later conspiracy indictments against Edward A. Epping, Hodge's chief aide, and Edward A. Hintz, resigned president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago.

Hodge, whose alleged juggling of some $800,000 in state funds gave the Republican administration of Gov. William G. Stratton an election year jolt, was clobbered for three hours with Contrakon yesterday, in a continuation of questioning that started Wednesday.

He reportedly named names, identifying several persons who authorized, processed or cashed state warrants similar to checks under investigation.

Contrakon said the indictments sought would cover each of 46 state warrants cashed by persons who were not the payees named on the warrants.

Conviction on a forgery charge could result in imprisonment of 1 to 20 years.

Illinois Case Goes To Grand Jury Monday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The state today mapped a full-scale prosecution of resigned Illinois Auditor Orville E. Hodge on 46 indictments charging forgery, confidence game and conspiracy.

State's Atty. George P. Contrakon said last night he will present the case to the grand jury Monday and expects to have "either indictments or no true bills by Monday night."

The prosecutor added that he plans to seek later conspiracy indictments against Edward A. Epping, Hodge's chief aide, and Edward A. Hintz, resigned president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago.

Eisenhower Goes To Pan-Am Confab

American Republics Send Chiefs To Reaffirm Bonds Of Friendship

PANAMA (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived here today for a get-together of the chiefs of state of at least 18 American republics aimed at strengthening the historic bonds of Pan-American friendship.

Eisenhower flew here from Washington to join the other presidents and presidents-elect at the hemisphere parley commemorating the first Pan-American conference 130 years ago.

Accompanying the President was his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower; Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's personal assistant, and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who is the convalescent President's physician.

In a brief airport speech, President Eisenhower said he was happy to join the presidents of the other American nations "who celebrate this great event which took place 130 years ago."

Eisenhower was referring to the American meeting called by South America's great liberator, Simon Bolivar in 1826.

THE PRESIDENT came down from the plane with a firm step.

Chicago Fights Outbreak Of Deadly Polio

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago, hard hit by an early outbreak of polio, struck back with widespread inoculations with Salk vaccine today in a dramatic effort to head off an epidemic.

Health officials expressed confidence the Salk vaccine could keep the outbreak under control if enough people receive the shots.

"I would like to see a half million children vaccinated," said Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Board of Health.

With the reporting of 19 new cases yesterday, Chicago's total for the year came to 245, including five deaths. At this time last year, only 38 cases had been reported, with two deaths.

Of the 245 Chicago cases, about half have come from a relatively small tenement area on the West Side. The disease has stricken particularly children under five years of age.

The city has four fulltime inoculation centers operating. Officials estimate that since July 12 about 20,000 children have been given the Salk vaccine. Two more centers will be opened Monday.

"In order to prevent an epidemic of polio, it will be necessary to get the population thoroughly inoculated, particularly the smaller children," Bundesen declared.

Dr. Alex Langmuir of the United States Public Health Service, heading a government group studying the outbreak, said the high incidence of polio "has no medical explanation."

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), spearhead of all the fights to cut general military assistance funds, said he would oppose an amendment by Knowland, Bridges and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) to withhold from Marshal Tito all new military equipment, including jet fighters already in the pipeline, and limit future help to maintenance and spare parts for equipment he already has.

Ellender said he feared such action "might push Tito into Moscow's arms."

9,942 Ohio Farms Sign For Soil Bank

COLUMBUS (AP)—An estimated 9,942 Ohio farmers have signed agreements to take part in the new federal soil bank program.

D. T. Herrman, administrative officer for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the count of soil-bank participation was made at the same time results of the wheat marketing quota referendum were tallied last night.

Deadline for applications in the soil bank program, originally set for yesterday, has been extended to next Friday, he said.

Surfboard Traffic Said Too Heavy

HONOLULU (AP)—"Traffic Cops" to control surfboard traffic jams off crowded Waikiki Beach have been proposed by Herman Lemke, member of Honolulu's Board of Supervisors.

Lemke says so many surfboards are skimming the waves that he wants them banned altogether in some sections.

He looked somewhat pale but when he spoke his voice was clear and sharp.

The conference will reach its climax tomorrow when the executives sign a "Declaration of Panama" calling for cooperation in solving economic problems and working for peace in a world "gravely threatened by totalitarian forces."

Today was "get acquainted day," renewing old friendships and making new ones. The conference has no formal agenda, only assorted ceremonies, speeches and fraternizing.

The trip offered Eisenhower a double opportunity to display his ability at personal diplomacy and to exhibit his stamina before the world and the U. S. electorate.

He is still recuperating from his June 9 intestinal operation, but the White House has pictured him as able and eager to go on this goodwill mission.

The U. S. President is to make a formal speech tomorrow, the first since his operation.

He boarded the presidential plane Columbine III three hours ahead of its midnight takeoff time in Washington in order to get some extra rest.

Apparently Eisenhower is something of a magnet for the other American presidents. Only 15 or 16 were expected at first. Now the number is up to 18, leaving only two absentees, Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla of Colombia and Julio Lozano of Honduras.

Ike's Tito Aid Opposed By Party Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's two top Republican leaders led today a fight to chop off all new arms aid to Yugoslavia after helping win the administration's battle for $2.3 billion in military assistance.

Republican leader Knowland (Calif.) and Sen. Bridges (N.H.), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, joined yesterday with Senate Democratic leader Johnson (Tex.) in beating back attempts to cut military aid.

But they switched position for today's voting on proposals to cut off any more U.S. arms help to Yugoslavia. The Eisenhower administration opposes these anti-Yugoslav moves.

It objects to going any further than the discretionary powers on the subject which Congress gave it in earlier legislation.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), spearhead of all the fights to cut general military assistance funds, said he would oppose an amendment by Knowland, Bridges and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) to withhold from Marshal Tito all new military equipment, including jet fighters already in the pipeline, and limit future help to maintenance and spare parts for equipment he already has.

New Social Security Bill Nears Passage

Some Doubt Raised Whether Eisenhower Will Sign Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Social Security bill carrying precedent-setting benefits for women and disabled workers was headed today for almost certain passage by Senate and House.

But there was a question as to whether President Eisenhower would sign the measure in view of his opposition to several of its major provisions.

After Senate-House conferees finished work last night, Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman of the group, said it would be next Tuesday before staff specialists could have the bill in shape for House consideration.

Both branches are expected to pass it quickly and send it to Eisenhower.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.), one of the conferees, predicted flatly that "he will sign it."

The conferees accepted the bill largely as it passed the Senate.

ONE MAJOR provision of the compromise bill calls for a 1/2 per cent increase in the Social Security tax starting next Jan. 1. This would be split evenly between employer and employee and would apply on the first $4,200 of earnings each year.

Thus an individual covered by Social Security, and his employer, would start paying the tax at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent next year. The tax increase would total $10.50 for those earning as much as $4,200 a year. It would be the same for their employers.

The tax boost is designed to finance the new program of benefits for persons totally disabled.

Mate's Whistling On Honeymoon Brings Divorce

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. W. L. Blackerby won a divorce because she said her husband whistled all night on their honeymoon.

"Was it a sort of wolf whistle?" asked Dist. Judge James K. Everts. "A wolf whistle might not have been out of order."

Mrs. Blackerby replied: "It was just plain whistling. He would sit in the rocking chair by the bed and whistle. And sing, too. No particular tune."

She said that her husband apparently wanted to aggravate her because of a minor argument.

"Cruel treatment indeed," observed Judge Everts. "Divorce granted."

WAF Commissions Studied By Miami

OXFORD (AP)—Miami University announced yesterday it has tentative plans for offering coeds a chance to earn WAF commissions through a four-year program starting in the fall.

The course, approximately the same as for men, would lead to a reserve commission for administrative work, but would not qualify them for flight duty. A commission would admit a woman to three years' active Air Force duty.

Cleveland Gives Up As Counterfeiter

CLEVELAND (AP)—A tall, curly-haired man walked into the U. S. Secret Service office, plunked down a bundle of counterfeit bills, and said, "I got a whole suitcase of his in my car."

He did, too. The suitcase was packed with bundles of $5 and $10 bills totalling $80,000.

Why did Andrew T. Post, 33-year-old father of three, make the phony money, then turn himself in without spending it?

"I asked myself what I was doing and I decided I was doing wrong. I started thinking of my family," he explained.

Post told Michael P. Burger, new head of the Cleveland Secret Service office, that he "always had an idea about making counterfeit money."

He said he didn't really need it. He helps his father run a profitable soft drink bottling plant.

Last April, Post said, he braced the counterfeiting plot to Willard VanTreese, 55, a sign maker who had printed labels for Post's bottling works.

They bought a printing press and a camera. After experimenting with 10 different engraving plates, they finally ran off the money, working nights.

Post and VanTreese were arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn on counterfeiting charges that carry up to 15 years in prison. Neither was able to post $7,500 bail.

Major Cities Seek Lower Highway Cost

COLUMBUS (AP)—Mayors of Ohio's major cities are carrying their fight for a 90-5-5 ratio of cost sharing in urban expressway construction to Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

State Highway Director S. O. Linnell has recommended that the cities be asked to put up the full 10 per cent after the federal government, under the new highway bill, chips in 90 per cent of the cost of urban expressways on interstate routes. The mayors want the state and local governments to split the 10 per cent.

The decision to get the governor into the picture was made yesterday at a meeting of mayors here.

Linnell told the mayors he favors having cities pay the entire 10 per cent now, whether or not the projects are on the interstate system. If they would agree to that, he said, he might reconsider this share after July 1, 1957.

The mayors agreed if Linnell would assure them of a 90-5-5 split after that date. But Linnell said he couldn't make such a promise.

Linnell said by letting the cities pay the 10 per cent, the state would save money it could use in rural areas where interstate projects would be a heavier burden on taxpayers.

The mayors retorted that he was trying to establish a policy benefiting rural areas at the expense of the cities.

The governor has never committed himself on the cost-splitting formula he favors.

Lausche Predicts New Gasoline Tax

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche predicts another penny-a-gallon tax will be added to the price of gasoline by the next Legislature.

"Look forward to it," he told his Cabinet yesterday. "The next Legislature will have to increase gasoline tax a penny if the state is to meet the cost of matching federal spending in the highway program."

Another Report Of Vandalism Prompts Money

Latest Cable Cutting Found Near Place Of Previous Incident

Discovery of a fourth cut telephone cable two miles east of Circleville on Route 56 has resulted in the striking union offering a $100 reward in connection with the vandalism.

Local 4373 of the Communications Workers of America is offering the reward "for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons tampering with or destroying property of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co." This covers all exchanges in the "union district," according to Bill Stewart, vice-president of the local union.

The striking union has repeatedly declared that its members have not been responsible for the vandalism reported in the Circleville area. Three phone cables were reported cut, according to the company.

First cable found cut with a hacksaw was a mile west of here along Route 22. The second one was found 2 1/2 miles east of the city along Route 56. The third one was discovered in an alley to the rear and just west of St. Philip's Church on W. Mound St.

THE LATEST discovery was reported to the sheriff's office at 10 a. m. today. This is near where the cable was found cut Wednesday.

Service to the Tarlton and Stoutsville areas apparently is affected again. In the first cutting in that section, approximately 130 phones were knocked out.

Stewart said that this latest incident is as much as surprise as the other cuttings. He has said that he is sure no union member is responsible.

Service in the Circleville exchange continues to be erratic. The "emergency operators" still refuse to place long distance calls from the city except in cases of what they term "emergencies."

Some subscribers who have come to pay their bills at the Pinckney St. office have refused to cross the picket line.

MEANWHILE, C. E. Williams, president of Ohio Consolidated, has been accused by Gov. Frank J. Lausche of failing to make a "bonafide effort" to keep telephones working in some Cadiz-area exchanges.

Williams said today that suspended service will be restored when supervisory personnel are assured police protection.

According to the sheriff's department and city police here, local company officials have not asked for any "extra protection."

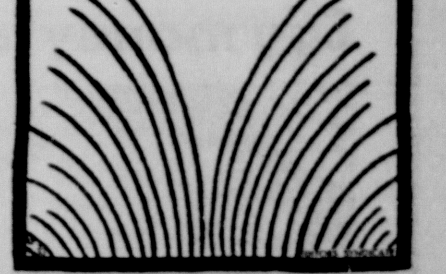

The company president had told Lausche also that the Tiltonville (Continued on Page Two)

Nazarene Church Set To Cooperate In Attaining Goals

A call of "shoulders to the wheel" will sound Sunday in the Circleville Church of the Nazarene when announcement is made of new district goals for 1956-60 that were set by leaders at the annual assembly just closed in Columbus.

Dr. Harvey S. Galloway, who was elected to an unprecedented 3-year term as superintendent, asked the district in 1956-60 to record:

- (1) A net gain of 2,500 members,
- (2) Open 25 new churches, and
- (3) Give $500,000 for world evangelism.

Dr. Galloway said that during the last four years the 120 churches on the district gave $417,898 to world evangelism, had a net gain of 1,580 members and established 11 new churches.

Delegates and guests gave $504 to the Rev. and Mrs. William A. Eckels, missionaries to Japan. This was the largest district gift.

The following district officers and board members were re-elected:

The Rev. W. E. Zimmerman of Coshocton, treasurer; the Rev. Paul K. Hayman of Galion, secretary; the Rev. F. B. Frederick of Ironton, trustee for three years, Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill.

Rev. Walter R. Moore of Zanesville, the Rev. Mr. Frederick, the Rev. Mr. Zimmerman and the Rev. Mr. Hayman, camp meeting trustees for four years.

District advisory board will consist of: James E. Oberlander of Bucyrus and Paul Forgrave of Columbus, laymen; the Rev. Miles A. Simmons of Columbus and the Rev. Frederick, pastoral members.

The assembly ended Friday afternoon. The 10-day camp meeting started Friday night and will continue through Sunday, July 29.

Sermon Developed From 139th Psalm For Presbyterians

"For Thine Is The Power" is the theme for worship at the Presbyterian Church scheduled for 10:30 Sunday morning. The Rev. Donald Mitchell will preach the sermon.

The message will be developed from the 139th Psalm, which is in keeping with the awe and wonder of Creation as it impresses us often in the Summer season of the year. The vastness of the heavens and of growing things upon Earth that declare the glory of God and His incomparable greatness —

these thoughts give a "life" to our spirits that comes from the Creator God who loves His people. This we need to know, that God's true purpose may be fulfilled in our three-score years and ten.

During the worship, the Benedictus will be repeated responsively by the congregation of worshippers. A baritone solo will be sung by Mr. Robert Moeller.

Hymns used will include: "Praise Ye The Lord, The Almighty", "Breathe On Me, Breath of God" and "Our God, Our Help In Ages Past".

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, presiding at the console, will present the organ numbers: "Preslud", "Legend" and "Grand Chorus".

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game... his day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he is a well-balanced youngster, and he would have taken that in stride, too.

He has learned about being a good sport, about regard for his fellow men, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have faith in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FEDERAL SPENDING GROWS

THE NATIONAL administration, which came into office three years ago determined to cut federal spending, seems now to be resigned to ever-bigger budgets.

In the fiscal year that ended a year ago, Uncle Sam spent $64.6 billion. Spending in the fiscal year which ended June 30 exceeded $65 billion.

There seems little doubt that the outlay for the fiscal year now started will be even higher. Budget Director Percival Brundage says as much in the following letter to President Eisenhower's cabinet:

"As a result of the salary increases, larger programs, and new projects in many of the departments and agencies, the administration's record of successive annual reductions in expenditures will be broken in the fiscal year 1957. We recognize that the obvious economies have now been made and that from here on the job becomes more difficult. Nevertheless, we must diligently search for further economies in operation."

Two of the big reasons for the increase are defense spending which this fiscal year will top last year's military outlays, $35.5 billion; and the fact that farm spending has stayed at a high level. The surplus program cost $3.4 billion a year ago and was supposed to drop to $2.2 billion this year.

Actually it has gone up to around $3.6 billion and will cost at least $3 billion in the year ahead instead of the $1.7 billion optimistically predicted last January.

The addition of other federal programs such as water pollution and school construction also swell the budget hikes.

MILLION SECRET-MAKERS

TREVOR GARDNER, former Air Force official, has told a congressional committee that there are now a million persons in the government who are empowered to wield a secrecy stamp.

Even if Gardner's figure is exaggerated somewhat for effect, it does show the extent to which secrecy has grown in government. It illustrates why members of the press covering Washington contend the area of secrecy becomes more difficult to penetrate every year, regardless of which party is in power.

No one could really object if these secrecy stamps were used to shield data that would be of use to the enemy. But the public has cause to have worries that it is all too easy to use such a stamp to cover up mistakes and worse in government affairs.

Particularly does the revelation that there are so many secrecy stamp-wielders give rise to apprehension. It's inconceivable that this nation has secrets so voluminous that one million federal employees have them crossing their desks at one time or another.

Gardner also declared that at least half the government documents now classified could be stripped of their secrecy labels. That could be subject to debate.

But it would seem obvious that half — if not more — if the secrecy stamp-wielders could be stripped of this particular power.

SHE HUGGED HIM

THIS IS THE TRUE story of a woman who knew what to do when things looked hopeless. She was only 17, too.

She had to be quick, or her husband would be burned to death. He had been cleaning asphalt from his clothes with gasoline when it spilled on him and caught fire.

She looked frantically around for a blanket or sheet or towel to wrap around him and smother the blaze. There wasn't anything that would do. There wasn't time to find anything.

But Mrs. Ernest Strawn, of Grand Prairie, Tex., ran to her writhing husband, threw her arms around him, and hugged him again and again. She put the fire out by doing the only thing that could save his life.

Most husbands and wives have serious problems, and sometimes the chances of solving them seem hopeless. That's when they need to remember that there are times when a hug will work miracles.

Now is the time to can rhubarb, says a home note. Much of the political type has already been canned for radio and TV release.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The ordeal of Jean Margetts, who managed to live for nine days under the body of her car and heavy oak scrub, without food or water, wounded but not killed as was her companion, has stirred astonishment. Yet the Old Testament tells of prolonged fasts, 40 days and 40 nights. The ancients believed that an equilibrium could be found between body and soul and that from fasting would come the triumph of the spirit.

In this materialistic age and country, where the steak is the symbol of success, a belly civilization does not answer man's need for a satisfaction of the cravings of the spirit. If doctors wonder how human beings last without food or water, let them study the history of besieged cities to know how mothers suffered extreme privation to give their children barely enough.

Under such circumstances, no one thinks of vitamins, no matter how colored, but only of the will to survive, the will to live. And when that will asserts itself, the human body only too often responds to it even when the medicines have failed. We call such episodes miracles and materialistic guessers deny that miracles ever took place, even before their eyes. Their explanation is agnostic; they do not know what happened.

Science has, in the recent past, blinded our eyes to the facts of life, which are so often recorded in the most ancient writ of all peoples. Not everything can be established by mathematical equations and even Einstein was forced to wonder what tremendous but impenetrable and unexplained power moved the forces of nature.

He did not live long enough to discover God, but Jean Margetts will be able to explain her miraculous survival not to some analyzable conservation of moisture in her body but to the spiritual forces within herself from which came to her the will to live.

The best textbook for the study of human psychology is "Job" in the Old Testament. Nobody ever had as much trouble as Job and he was sorely tried. Perhaps in these times, a man who had as many tribulations as Job would take an overdose of sleeping pills or would quiet himself into an alcoholic, but Job remained steadfast.

He did not live long enough to discover which have become such a fad, the veterinarians giving them to dogs who bark too much. His own description of what a big shot he was before his troubles started is a masterpiece:

"I put on righteousness, and it clothed me; my judgment was as a robe and a diadem."

"I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame."

"I was a father to the poor; and the cause which I knew not I searched out. And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the spoil out of his teeth."

"Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my days as the sand."

"My root was spread out by the waters, and the deep lay all night upon my branch."

"My glory was fresh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand."

"Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept silence at my counsel."

"After my words they spake not again; and my speech dropped upon them."

Then he came a cropper. Everything went wrong.

But Job did not accept defeat, nor was he frightened nor did he die. He had faith and he had the will to live and he did live. He got all the bad breaks that could befall anybody but he refused to concede defeat.

The Book of Job may be a drama or it may be a parable but it explains such miracles of strength of the spirit as kept Jean Margetts alive for nine days in Parley's Canyon in the Wasatch Mountains, east of Salt Lake under a car, in pain, without food or drink and very cold.

If we only knew all that occurred in our world, we would be sure that there was no age of miracles only in the past; that miracles never cease; that they occur even in these days and that there is no better explanation for those that occur now than for those that occurred in ancient days. And the great miracles are among those who have the will to live against unbelievable odds.

CHAPTER 36

BILL SETTLED back in a corner on the sofa and said, "Like Winchell, I want to tell you all about tomorrow's headlines. I'm sure you all know something has been going on."

"Those strange men weren't on the Silver Song for a social visit," said Peggy. "You're one of them, aren't you? F.B.I.?"

"Not F.B.I. Secret Service. We've just broken up a counterfeit racket and that's one thing that doesn't come under the F.B.I. There are other things involved in this, too, that comes under the Smuggling Act and the Bureau of Narcotics. It's a pretty big thing. Smuggled jewels and marijuana are mixed up with the counterfeiting."

"When Alvarez came here presumably to fish, I was sent down to keep him covered. We had a hunch that counterfeiting would be going on somewhere close by. I was beginning to think Alvarez was too smart to be caught." He paused, smiled, and said, "No one said Alvarez came." "Then Rita and Priscilla came," said Alvarez. "At the party on the yacht that night I heard Rita and Alvarez talking about the place and something clicked in my mind—all that talk about the secret room and passage."

"I located the room the morning I went there and found Priscilla ransacking the cedar chest. And I went back and explored the secret passage after Priscilla had gone."

"You didn't tell us?" "You didn't tell us. This thing was so big I couldn't afford a slip. The door was open leading from that room to the secret passage and I closed and bolted it. If I had taken the counterfeiting equipment then, it—with the marijuana and smuggled jewels—would have been found on property belonging to Priscilla."

"Priscilla was staring at him. And that's why you said you could have placed me under arrest?"

Bill smiled at her. "I wanted to scare you into holding onto the property until the right moment. It was the only way Alvarez had to get into that room, after I had blocked the passage."

"Why didn't he get suspicious? Finding the door locked, I mean?" "That's probably what made them so desperate to conclude the thing and be on their way. Alvarez would naturally suppose if the things had been found, they would be reported at once. Instead, he fell into my trap."

"What about the lights flashing?" Rita asked.

"The things were left in the passage until night, when Gallagher picked them up. The dance was going on and that neighborhood was deserted. Remember, Pete, Gallagher was tied up at the dock most of the day. They had it all worked out perfectly."

"Good grief!" Priscilla exclaimed suddenly. "I'll bet the money Rita found was counterfeit."

"It was. That's why I sent you the anonymous note telling you not to spend the money."

They discussed it a little longer, then Peggy said, "And now I have another important announcement to make. Pete and I are going to be married. We're going to have the biggest wedding. Apalachicola has ever seen. And, Peggy continued, all the sleepiness gone from her voice, "you're all going to be in it. Priscilla will be my maid of honor."

"Why not?" They all looked at him. Priscilla, from her place beside him on the sofa, looked up at him inquiringly.

Quillen-Winter Nuptials Read In Hedges Chapel

Bride Wears Lovely Chantilly Lace Gown

Hedges Chapel Church of near Ashville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Elaine Quillen to Mr. William Winter. The Rev. Emerson Abts performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with daisies and baby's breath and lighted tapers in seven-branched candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. Quillen of near Ashville and the late Mr. Quillen and Mr. Winter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter of Amanda.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Donald Quillen, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a princess line bodice and short shirred sleeves. The skirt was of nylon tulle with appliques of alençon lace over an old-fashioned hoop ending in a cathedral sweep. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace pill box hat and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and small pearl earrings, that were a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Margaret Effland of Akron was maid of honor and Mrs. Dorsey Bosworth of Circleville and Mrs. Jack McCain of Ashville were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of ballerina-length pink silk crystallette over taffeta crinolines. They wore matching mits and single-strand pearl chokers. Their headpieces were of nylon tulle with seed pearls and each carried garden baskets of white daisies with pink bows on the handles.

Connie Collins and Kathy Dunkle, flower girls, were dressed identically in ballerina-length gowns of white organdy embroidered with pink rosebuds. They carried white hand crocheted baskets filled with pink rose petals.

Charles Bowers, nephew of the groom, lighted the candles and Gary Bowers, also a nephew, was ring bearer.

Mr. Jack McCain of Ashville served as best man and seating the guests were Mr. Vernon Allen of Amanda and Mr. William Six of Ashville.

A half hour of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Martin Cromley of Ashville and soloist Mrs. David Dill, who sang "At Dawning," "All For You," "Walk Hand In Hand With God," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Shirley Woodman, Miss Ann Rutledge, Mrs. James Gregory and Miss Patricia Collins were hostesses for the reception, held in the home of the bride's parents. A color scheme of pink and white was used as decorations throughout the house and the traditional tiered wedding cake was surrounded by ivy and daisies.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore a dusty rose lace dress with a matching hat and the groom's mother chose a pink linen dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white rose buds.

The bride wore a navy suit trimmed with silver beading and white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet for the honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

The new Mrs. Winter is a graduate of Walnut Township High School and Ohio University, Athens. She plans to teach at Amanda High School.

Mr. Winter was graduated from Walnut Township High School and attended Ohio State University, Columbus. He is currently engaged in farming.

The couple will reside near Amanda in the Cedarhill community.

The evening before the ceremony the bridegroom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Winter entertained the rehearsal party to a dessert hour.

Successful Sidewalk Show Held By Local Art League

The Circleville Art League held its second annual sidewalk exhibit Friday in front of the Charles H. May residence on the corner of Court and Mound streets.

Mr. Roy Wood, chairman, announced that the showing, which consisted of 50 paintings on display, was a huge success.

Many of the members have been holding sessions to work on water-color painting, which contributed to the number of works on display.

Seven of the artists' paintings were sold as many onlookers and local residents viewed the exhibit.

The exhibit, as a rule limited to large metropolitan areas and European countries, had an informal air, which gave the artists a chance to meet the public and to personally display their work.

Due to the success of the showing, the local organization is looking forward to holding a similar display next year.

Surprise Birthday Party Honors Two

The dress bodice is shirred in front and a deeper V in back. Tiny creased pleats below the waist soften the skirt in front, and center fullness gives movement in back.

Exchange Student Arrives In Turkey

Latest Letter Describes Journey From Venice To Final Destination

(This is the third and final article in the first series of letters received from Charles W. Brown, a Pickaway Countyman now in Turkey under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.)

Brown leaves Venice and goes to Bari, Italy. There, he encounters some very vivid anti-American feelings, due to the fact that the town was hard hit during the war. Finally, Brown and other IFYE students arrive in Ankara, Turkey, their destination.

"We left Venice on the Italian ship, 'Barletta', at 4 p. m. on the 29th of June. The 'Barletta' is a very pretty ship, done in all white with orange and black trim. It cruises around the Mediterranean Sea and all the small seas around the Mediterranean. Our destination was Istanbul, Turkey. We were on the Adriatic Sea most of the time but we were also on the Ionian Sea and the Aegean Sea. The trip was very smooth and beautiful.

"After leaving Venice, we sailed down the Adriatic Sea, as I said before. We arrived at Bari, Italy, at 5:30 p. m., the 30th of June and had until 11 p. m. to see the town. The town of Bari is a very large sea port. We went out to see the city in an old horse and carriage (which were very numerous, but seemed to be used mostly by tourists; the city has very modern buses).

"The city is divided into two parts, the old city and the new city. In the old city we saw the St. Nickols Cathedral, which was built in about 1680. The church is very large and had a beautiful ceiling done in gold and mosaic pictures of Bible scenes. In one corner of the church, there was the armor and some of the belongings of St. Nickols. The remains of St. Nickols were also in, what the guide said, an oriental casket with windows. (The guide was self appointed and cost me two cigarettes before we got away from him.)

"THE HOMES in the old city are very close together and very old, although some had been rebuilt. The streets are very narrow, just wide enough for a horse and carriage.

"In this city there is a very old fort, that must have been a great thing in its time. It had a large moat around it and the wall went straight up for a ways and then angled out in a type of a balcony. The fort is quite large, about the size of a city block.

"The old city must have taken a pretty rough beating during the war because we saw many signs of fighting and some rebuilding is still going on. The new city is ultra modern with very large, apartment houses. They have television, radio and about every electric appliance you can find in the United States.

"The people there seem to have a great dislike for the American. We thought for a while that maybe it was just because they thought we were stupid for riding in a horse and carriage. There were two other Americans on the ship who walked through the city and they seemed to get the same impression. One of them spoke a little German and they were talking to a couple of the shopkeepers. The shopkeepers were bragging that they had sunk 20 American ships in the harbor. When the American didn't seem happy about it, they asked why and when he said they were American, the shopkeeper said something in Italian and walked away. We even had a few hold their nose when we went by.

"These are the kind of incidents that try our spirit of the IFYE program. We talked this situation over with a very educated Italian and he explained it very well to us. Bari was hit very hard during the war and the people have not forgotten it yet. Many people lost their whole families, so if a person puts themselves in their place one can understand. He also said that it would take many years to change the impression that some of the American Army men had left during the war. These people only remember the bad ones.

"THE SMALL CHILDREN seem to know all about this. They would be out on the street yelling 'money Joe, cigarettes Joe' and things such as that. I have never in my life seen so many children as we saw in Bari. They were so thick that we couldn't look any place without seeing 10 or 12 in a group. We left at 11 p. m.

"The first day of July was very interesting. We sat around on deck showing our slides and pictures to some of the people on board. We could not understand them or vice versa. By using signs, grunts, groans and a great deal of the Latin I had learned in high school, we got along all right. I would use a Latin word and they would understand. This was a lot of fun and very interesting. I think we have made a number of friends on board even though we do not speak the same language. This is the type of thing that makes IFYE seem worth every trial and tribulation to us.

"Our ship, the 'Barletta', docked at Istanbul, Turkey at 6:30 p. m., the 3rd of July. We were met at the docks by Waldo S. Rowan, assistant agriculture attaché and a man from the American Consulate Office, who got us through customs quickly. We then went through the city to the Istanbul Hilton Hotel. This hotel is one of the most fabulous hotels I have ever seen. It has wall to wall carpeting, in every room, each has a balcony and a very large bath. The room we had was about all glass on two sides and had a couple of the largest mirrors I have ever seen. One was the whole end of the bathroom and the other was a sliding door over a large clothes press.

"The hotel is one of the most beautiful I have ever seen, but when you go through the gateway of the hotel you step back a hundred years or more. There are many other modern buildings in the city but they are greatly outnumbered by the old buildings. The old buildings are solid, side by side, and the streets are very narrow, and one way. There are some new boulevards with four lane traffic, but these are few.

"The city of Istanbul has many interesting places to see, but due to the fact that we had only one day to spend and part of that was taken by USIS to take pictures we did not get to see very much. Thanks to Sakru Ergur, an IFYE to the United States in 1952, we got to see the Blue Mosque, which is a beautiful mosque. It has its entire ceiling done in mosaic which is mostly blue and a good bit of white. The floor of the whole mosque is covered with Turkish rugs and the people sit where they please. A person must remove his shoes before entering and the people of that faith must wash their hands, face and feet just in side the door.

"We also visited St. Sophia, which was a very old Christian church and now a museum. St. Sophia is not as pretty as the Blue Mosque but it was built in the 13th century and the Blue Mosque, in the 16th century.

"AFTER EATING our dinner in a nice little restaurant over the old covered market (a section under a building that is all little shops, with everything to sell), we went to the Old Sultan's Palace. This is quite a place to see. It is a large fortress that covers a number of acres. It is on a peninsula out in the sea. The palace is now a museum of all the Sultan's treasures and etc. There is a collection of China that dates back to the third century. There are many other exhibits such as royal coaches, rugs, kitchen utensils, guns, spears, swords, armors, etc.

"We IFYE's and Mr. Rowan left Istanbul for Ankara at 8 p. m. on the 4th of July. We were met at the station by Davut Aris, national director of extension, Bill von Sessgen, agricultural attaché, and a number of newspaper men. We spent the last few days meeting all the important men in the Turkish Agriculture Department and others. We have not had too much time to do any sight seeing in Ankara.

The following is the program for our stay in Turkey: July 8-22, in Samsun; July 23-Aug. 2 in Amasya; Aug. 3-5, in Ankara; Aug. 6-21, in Eskishir; Aug. 22-Sept. 5, in Bursa; Sept. 6-21, in Izmir; Oct. 4-11, in Adana; Oct. 12-17, in Mersin; and Oct. 18-19, return to Ankara.

Government Says Budget Now Balanced

WASHINGTON (P)—For the first time in five years, the government has ended the 1956 bookkeeping year with a budget surplus.

The surplus on June 30, the end of the last fiscal year, totaled $1,754,357,066.

This was reported by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Percival F. Brundage. It fulfilled predictions made earlier this year by the Eisenhower administration and met the goal the administration has been aiming at since it took office.

Not since the early part of the Korean War had the last previous budget balance been achieved. It was balanced three times during the Truman administration, but before that, not since 1930.

Last May 17, Humphrey predicted a budget surplus of about $1.8 billion. The actual surplus for fiscal 1956 fell somewhat short of that amount, but the Treasury chief and the budget director described themselves as gratified.

A balanced budget, to which this administration has been pledged from the beginning, has now been achieved," they said.

According to Treasury figures, net budget receipts in fiscal 1956 came to a record $68,140,695,316. Net budget spending amounted to $66,386,338,250.

At the same time the Negro congregation of St. Luke's Free Will Baptist Church will hold a mass meeting to pray for the Klan and "strengthen the spread of Christian love for one another."

Guard Tank Stalls In Midst Of Test

ST. ALBANS, W. Va. (P)—A group of national guardsmen had red faces yesterday during the evacuation of St. Albans as part of the nationwide "Operation Alert."

Rumbling through the streets in a 25-ton tank, they clanked up to the civil defense communications center, then found they couldn't start the tank again. It sat immobilized through most of the two-hour exercise.
